SUBJECT: Model United Nations (MUN)/Open Meeting

Would you please encourage your students to consider joining us for our upcoming informational meeting? It will be held on Thursday, February 11, 1999, at 3:30 pm, in Olney 228 (the Economics Department lounge). Please feel free to join us yourself, as well, at this meeting to learn more about MUN and to meet our students who competed last year.

As its name implies, MUN is a simulation of the United Nations. It is a worldwide system of conferences, mostly in the U.S. but also in other countries, where students represent nations and diplomats in debating current global issues over the course of a day or a few days. The National Model United Nations Conference will be held March 30 to April 3, 1999, in New York City. Last year more than 2,100 delegates from five continents participated in this conference; our students hope to join them this year.

Depending on the number of delegates a school sends (a few send more than 50), schools are assigned a country or countries to represent and individual delegates are assigned to committees. To prepare for the conference, students do research on the country they are representing and write position papers on the two or three issues before their respective committees. Awards are given for outstanding delegates and delegations. The experience does wonders for students – helping them develop their critical thinking, communication, and interpersonal skills, their base of knowledge, enthusiasm for learning, etc.

Please feel free to call (951-1948) or write (emshomba@lasalle.edu or Box 406 through Campus Mail) for more information. Thanks.

Promoting Academic Excellence
A Teaching and Learning Center Brown Bag Discussion
Thursday, February 18
12:30 - 1:20 P. M. -- Olney 99

"A campus culture of quality is also essential if excellence in the classroom is to be realized . . . Quality requires a highly trained faculty possessing deep, relevant insights into the subjects they teach. It also requires highly motivated and adequately prepared students to cope with the sophisticated words, numbers, and concepts used to penetrate the essences of those subjects. It requires adequate and stable finances to support the extended time needed by faculty and students to generate an excellent educational experience . . . The final necessary components are shared pride in the concept of quality and an unabashed quest for ever increasing levels of quality. (L. B. Mayhew, P. J. Ford and D. L. Hubbard, The Quest for Quality, 1990, p. 77)

What can faculty and administration do to promote academic excellence at La Salle University? What challenges do we face in creating a campus culture of quality? What strategies have been successful?

Join in an informal, lunchtime discussion of these questions. (Bring your lunch; chips and cookies provided). Pre-registration is not required and all are welcome.

Sponsored by the Teaching and Learning Center

And don't forget: "WRITING ACROSS DISCIPLINES: WHAT'S NEW IN WRITING ACROSS THE CURRICULUM?" Wednesday, February 24, 2:15 - 4:20 P.M.--Olney 99

The workshop will be led by Margot Soven, and is intended for faculty in all disciplines. Pre-registration is not required, but greatly appreciated. If you are interested, email Margot for materials prior to February 24 (soven@lasalle.edu).

Ms. Liz Heenan
LaSalle University
1900 North Olney Avenue
Philadelphia, PA. 19141

Dear Ms. Heenan,

Thank you for your gift of personal items.

As the cooler days and nights of the winter season become more prevalent, the need for places like Saint John's which offers food, clothing, shelter and case management services to the homeless becomes even more vital.

It is only through the generosity of those who give to our ministry and the presence of those who pray and work with us that we are able to fulfill our mission to the poor. Because of this cooperative spirit a normally cold time of year is transformed into a joyful, holy and hopeful season for those we serve.

All of us at Saint John's pray that all the peace, joy and hope of the Christmas and Holiday Seasons may remain with you throughout the New Year. You and all your loved ones are also remembered in the Masses and daily good works of our ministry.

God Bless,

Rev. Kevin Lawrence

FROM: Richard A. Nigro, Provost

DATE: February 5, 1999

I am pleased to announce that Ms. Jo Anne Snarponis will assume the position of Director of Multimedia Services on March 1, 1999.

Ms. Snarponis received her bachelor's degree from Bloomsburg University and her M.S. in Instructional Technology from Marywood University. Ms. Snarponis comes to La Salle from the Hazelton Center of Lackawanna Junior College where she has been employed since 1993, first as Special Programs Coordinator and most recently as Assistant Center Director. In addition to this experience, she has recently completed an Educational Technology Internship with the Easton Area School District as part of her master's program.

In addition to announcing Ms. Snarponis' appointment, I want to take this opportunity to thank Andy Gwiazda for his service as Interim Director of Multimedia Services. Andy's diligence and devotion maintained the high level of service necessary in this important contribution to the educational experience of our students. Please join me in thanking Andy and wishing him success in pursuing his career plans.

Thank you.

MEMORANDUM

TO: The University Community

DATE: February 2, 1999

It is my pleasure to inform you that Cherylyn E. Rush, currently secretary to Multicultural Affairs and International Education, has been appointed interim Assistant to the Dean of Students for Multicultural Affairs, effective immediately.

Cherylyn has given the University and our students distinguished and dedicated service. I believe she will be very successful with the increased responsibilities this appointment will bring, centering on additional work with our multicultural student organizations; identifying and preparing multicultural resources for students, faculty, and staff; further supporting multicultural and diversity programming; and identifying the needs of and potential responses to multicultural students.

Our search for an Assistant Dean of Students, whose responsibilities will include multicultural affairs, will resume shortly. In the meantime, please join me in congratulating Cherylyn and in working with her as she assumes her new duties.
